Selectmen's Meeting

BUDGET SUBCOMMITTEE MEETING

Mattapoisett Selectmen received a notice of a budget subcommittee meeting to be held Thursday, January 8, 1981, at 7:00 p.m. in the ORR High School Library. One Mattapoisett representative will attend.

WHARF PROJECT

A letter was received from Mr. Angelo Marcello, vice president of C.E. Maguire, Inc., informing Selectmen that the proposed wharf project which had been discussed at an earlier meeting stands a good chance to be funded under the existing Economic Development Administration. The three phases to go through for development of this project are: Technical Assistance, Design, and Construction. Mr. Marcello stated the C.E. Maguire company would be pleased to assist the Town in its preparation for a Technical Assistance Grant.

SPENDING CAP ON MBTA

A letter from Representative William Robinson requests support on his Bill to place a spending cap on the MBTA. Selectmen voted to support Mr. Robinson's proposal which would require that any override of the MBTA budget over the 4% cap be approved not only by a two-thirds vote of the Advisory Board but also by a two-thirds roll call vote in the House and Senate.

NOTICES FROM BOARD OF APPEALS

Selectmen received two notices from the Board of Appeals. One is a notice of a public hearing on the petition of Elaine and Hudson Hardy, Jr. for a special permit to construct a building on Wildwood Terrace on a lot containing less area and frontage than prescribed by the town by-laws.

The other notice was the decision of the Board of Appeals in regard to the petition of Roxanne Bungert for a variance and for a special permit for a multi-family dwell-

CHORAL SOCIETY RESUMES REHEARSALS

The Sippican Choral Society has resumed their regular Monday night rehearsals and will welcome new members at either of the next two Monday rehearsals, January 12 and 19, 7:30 p.m. Rehearsals are held at the Congregational Church Fellowship Hall in Marion. Please use the entrance off of the parking lot behind the Marion Pharmacy on Front Street.

Peter A. West of Mattapoisett, director, has announced that spring concert plans will include a performance of Faure's Requiem on Palm Sunday, and a concert in a lighter vein to be held later in the Spring.

So -- we have music to challenge and please all facets -- come and join us in song.

Rochester Seniors

The first meeting of the New Year 1981 will be held Tuesday, January 13th, at 1 p.m. at St. Rose of Lima Church Hall on Vaughan Hill Road, Rochester, with the new President, Mr. George Sousa, presiding. Fruit Platters were delivered to our shut-ins by Past President Mrs. Isobel Preston and Irene George and they returned with much love and thanks for the Club and members from the shut-ins. Games will be enjoyed after the meeting and donations for these will be appreciated.

Instead of worrying about filling the seats in our Minibus, we had to arrange for a big bus, and when we closed our reservations Tuesday noon we had taken 43 reservations. We are sorry to say that we had several last minute telephone calls that we had to turn down, as we had to have the money in and the tickets bought that afternoon. Because of the shortness of time that we could allow for reservations, we tried to publicize the event as much as possible. It was mentioned at the bowling alleys and at the Nutrition Center. We have suggested to any of you who applied too late that there are still a few seats available on the bus (bus holds 49), but you would have to arrange for your own tickets at the regular price. We also will have a few on the stand-by list to replace any with reservations who need to cancel out before the trip. Please call our Senior Aide Bernice Manchester for any such arrangements.

Sippican Seniors

On Thursday, January 8, at 1:30 p.m. the Sippican Seniors will hold their annual meeting in the Community Center of the Marion Congregational Church. There will be an interesting talk about the Cape Cod Canal. Further information has been posted in the Senior Center. Many of us would like to know more about this famous landmark in this area so we are hoping for a large turnout. The men should be especially interested. Following the talk there will be a business meeting when plans for the coming year will be discussed. We need your help in planning ways to run this organization without a full quota of officers. If you are interested in continuing the organization please support the Executive Board and the Nominating Committee which needs your help.

BOOK REVIEW BY REV. PAUL MYERS

WALT WHITMAN, A LIFE, 1819 - 1892, by Justin Kaplan

One of the new books in the Mattapoisett Public Library is a biography of Walt Whitman, one of the most rambunctious characters among American poets - perhaps one of the most misunderstood. It is written by Justin Kaplan, who is best known for his biography "Mr. Clemens and Mark Twain". The book is well written not only delineating the character of the subject, but also describing the contemporary background of his life not to mention the judgments of many of his peers. Some of the well-known authors of his time hailed him as a creative pioneer; others denounced him as an imposter. There was no middle ground.

One critic has pointed out that there was no middle period in Whitman's life and work - no middle age - just youth and age. Lawlessness and the physical urge and exuberance of young life governed the early period. After the Civil War, there is the emphasis on what the poet called the soul. The finest employment of his life was that of caring for the sick and wounded soldiers in the field and in the numerous military hospitals in and about Washington wearing himself to the point of breakdown in the process. Large heartedness, tender caring, self-sacrificing were now the qualities of his life. Not least in this period there is an Americanism which is the gospel of equality pressed to the extreme the measure of persons by soul power rather than wealth or station, an America bounded only by the soul of man.

ent involvement in their children's reading instruction. She will expand upon the basic methods presented at the last PAC meeting held at the Junior High School in November.

Ms. Varney's approach is hands-on in nature. She will provide specific strategies and techniques that parents may use in helping develop their children's reading skills.

Ms. Varney is a reading specialist at the Willet School in Attleboro. She has conducted numerous workshops and in-service sessions in the New England area with a focus on reading instruction and the reading process.

Her enthusiasm and dynamic style of presentation was extremely well received at the November meeting, and PAC members are encouraged to attend Tuesday's session. Interested townspeople are also cordially invited.

situation becomes suddenly worse. Many or most of these people are particularly sensitive to molds and dust both extremely widespread and impossible to avoid completely. But, in the winter, the outside molds are non-active in the deep freeze of the outside air. The dust is under a blanket of snow. Why then does the allergy flare up? Consider this. We are living in a closed environment. As the Arabs extort more and more money for oil through their cartel, we close the home tighter and tighter to save ever more expensive heating fuel. So, the source of the respiratory trouble has to be mostly within the home, where we spend a good part of our day and all of our night.

Molds grow where dampness occurs. The bathroom and the kitchen are obvious places and sweating pipes are a good location to check as are shower curtains. The most efficient mold factory in the home is not obvious. Every home with a no-frost refrigerator has such a factory. The water melted in the refrigerator is led to a tray underneath next to the fan and motor. This water collects in a tray where it becomes a rich culture of molds. The warmth of the motor cooks the culture and evaporates it. The fan distributes the dried mold spores into the air. Then the melt cycle replenishes the water and the whole process is repeated endlessly.

If you enjoy the convenience of a no-frost refrigerator check, wash and disinfect the collection pan often. Allergy sufferers will not need to be reminded because they know their poison well.

Children's Museum

COURSE FOR FIVE AND SIX YEAR OLDS

A course combining different aspects of the natural world and related art projects will be offered for five and six year olds on four consecutive Saturdays starting January 10th. The class will be given from 2-3:30 each Saturday afternoon. Children will become familiar with specific adaptations of local animals, hear stories and put together a project designed to further their appreciation of the natural environment on a Kindergarten/First Grade level. The class is limited to twelve children and there is a charge.

COURSE FOR SEVEN AND UP

In an effort to help us deal with the January blahs, the Children's Museum is offering a class on Whales and Dolphins for children. The course is scheduled on four consecutive Saturdays: January 10, 17, 24, 31 at 10:00-11:30 a.m. The biology and unique story of the whales will be told with slides and museum artifacts. A Movement Workshop will explore our feelings about Whales, and a visit to the Whaling Museum in New Bedford will feature a film on the California Gray Whales. Interest in these amazing mammals has mushroomed and the information learned has greatly expanded, making study of these creatures a fascinating experience. Come learn, share and have fun. There is a charge.

ADULT COURSE

"Writing for, About and With Your Pre-School Child" is an adult course that has been given at Bridgewater State College and Cambridge Center for Adult Education and will be given here at the Children's Museum during the month of January. Teacher, Mrs. Sally Spooner, includes in her course an overview of literature for young children, review of story structure, writing for children and reasons and ways to stimulate your child's imagination and encourage him

If you have ever had the urge to write a story for children, please join us for this very thorough and enjoyable course. The course will run three Thursday evenings, January 15, 22 and 29th from 7-9 and then on Saturday, January 31st, there will be a four hour workshop wrap-up from 9-2. There is a charge; all materials will be provided.

ANNUAL MEETING

The public is cordially invited to the annual meeting of the Dartmouth Children's Museum which will be held this year on Monday, January 17th. Homebaked desserts will be featured for refreshments, served with coffee or tea to warm us on a cold January evening. A short business meeting will follow, introducing new Board of Trustees members and reviewing the Museum's 1980 accomplishments.

After the meeting our entertainment for the evening will feature Louise Strongman who will narrate her experiences of traveling the length of England by canal boat. Her slides and movies combine to take us on an an exciting journey which will entertain young and old.

To begin the evening, refreshments will be served at 7:00 at Friends Academy Auditorium. Members and non-members

EXHIBITION OF R. SWAIN GIFFORD WATERCOLORS AT WHALING MUSEUM

An exhibition of 40 watercolors by R. Swain Gifford opens at the New Bedford Whaling Museum on January 7 and will continue through March 8.

R. Swain Gifford, a native and life-long summer resident of this area, became one of America's leading artists in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. A teacher, etcher, and painter in oils, he was regarded both in this country and abroad as one of our most capable watercolorists.

For this show, in addition to local scenes, there will be watercolors done during trips to California, Alaska, France, Italy, Egypt, and northern Europe.

Museum hours are: Monday - Saturday, 9:00 to 5:00 p.m.; Sunday, 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

PROGRAM ON SMALL CRAFT

An illustrated talk on "Small Craft in New Bedford Harbor" will be presented by Elton W. Hall, Curator of Collections, at the Old Dartmouth Historical Society (Whaling Museum) on Thursday, January 15. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Museum Theater, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford (snow date, Friday, January 16).

From the earliest days of exploration and settlement down to the present time, a variety of small boats has been employed in New Bedford harbor for fishing, coastwise transportation, harbor ferries, lighters, tenders, and any other task that was to be performed beyond the edge of the pier. While documentation of these boats is sparse, they may be seen in virtually every picture of the harbor. Through contemporary pictorial records Mr. Hall will look at some of these boats and discuss their qualities and the jobs they performed. There is a charge for non-members.

BOSTON GALLERY DISPLAYS NEW BEDFORD WHALING MUSEUM PAINTINGS

An exhibition of paintings from the permanent collection of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society (New Bedford Whaling Museum) will open on Monday, January 19, at the Concourse Gallery of the State Street Bank and Trust Company, 225 Franklin Street, Boston. "RESTORING THE COLONIAL HOME"

Carlton C. Brownell will present a talk entitled "Restoring the Colonial Home" at the first meeting in 1981 of the Wesport Historical Society on January 15 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening at the Pacific Union Congregational Church, 526 Old County Road, Head of Westport.

The guest speaker will discuss the problems and the philosophy of restoring a home today. Mr. Brownell has been engaged in home restorations for over 30 years in the Tiverton and Little Compton areas. He worked on a part time basis and always had one house undergoing restoration during this time. He does everything from start to finish - from turning new balusters to the final painting of the building.

Mr. Brownell is a retired teacher. He was head of the History Department in the Tiverton High School. He lives in Little Compton. He is actively involved in the historical societies of both Little Compton and Tiverton.

ville United Church of Christ on Saturday, January 17, at 6:45 p.m. The members of the Companie, dressed in authentic costumes and speaking the old dialect become colorful characters of the past who will dance, sing and tell stories to delight the diners. Alice Erickson and members of the Church and Family Life Committee will be preparing the food using carefully researched recipes, so that each course, including "Fricasee of Chicken and spiced fillets of fishe", will be appropriate to the seventeenth century era.

The Daunce Companie is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of English pastimes prior to 1651. They have performed at various street fairs including the Whaling Festival in New Bedford, and many historic landmarks throughout the state, and have successfully blended education and entertainment during school visits both in individual classrooms and large group settings. Most recently, they have performed during an Elizabethan Madrigal Dinner in New Bedford and at the Huttleston House Restaurant in Fairhaven.

The public is invited to sample the rare cuisine and enjoy a unique dining experience. Tickets are available by calling Janice Jigerjian at 947-7065 or Denise Wright at 947-9639. The Church is located at the intersection of Rtes. 105 and 18 in Lakeville.

recent survey indicated that they are having difficulty finding technical and professional workers, according to Dr. James M. Howell, Senior Vice President and chief economist at The First National Bank of Boston. Firms representing a variety of industries in the six-state region share the view that labor markets are "tight", Dr. Howell said.

Turning to the availability of non-technical workers, Dr. Howell commented that only a quarter of the respondents to the September survey report that high school graduates are adequately prepared to work in unskilled jobs. More than two-thirds of the sample felt that recent high school graduates are ill-equipped to make the transition from schools to the job market.

Moreover, nearly 15 percent of the business executives indicated that their companies do not hire recent high school graduates. These respondents said that as a group these entry-level workers simply "were not adequately prepared to become involved with the day-to-day responsibilities of the work place."

The majority of businessmen taking part in the survey agreed that an improvement in attitudes and willingness to work were the most important factors which would help recent high school graduates succeed
